VENT AXIA

exhaust & intake fans

solve ventilation problems

In Factories, Offices, Restaurants, and at home—everywhere, bad ventilation is the enemy of Health and Efficiency.

Good ventilation has not always been easy to obtain under modern conditions of life, but progress in Aero-Dynamics and Plastic Moulding led directly to Vent-Axia. Moulded in Plastic material and provided with the most efficient air-screw and electric motor, Vent-Axia is light, attractive, non-corrodible and designed to fit to the glass of windows.

The result is good ventilation in its simplest form, either for Stale Air Extraction or Fresh Air Intake.

Proof is shown by the extensive use of Vent-Axia in Government Departments and Industrial concerns throughout the World.

BREACH CANDY SWIMMING BATH TRUST.

66, Warden Road, Bombay

Nearly seventy years ago the Europeans of Bombay in public meeting voted that the balance at credit of the Bombay Steam Fund be vested in Trust with the Bombay Municipality for the provision and maintenance of Swimming Baths for the benefit of the European public of Bombay. A piece of the foreshore at Warden Road, Mahatunkul, was secured by Deed of Gift from the Secretary of State for India and the original Bath erected thereon in 1878. The Bath was reconstructed in 1927 and the grounds beautifully laid out. The present Swimming Bath is very much larger than the former Bath and in addition there is an open air pool fitted with high diving stages, etc. The Baths are equipped with a filtration and purification plant and there is a separate pool with Beach for children. The gardens form a pretty playground for European children.

GOLWALLA BROTHERS VICTORIA SWIMMING BATH

(COSMOPOLITAN)

Back Bay, Fort, Bombay

Telegram "Golbath."

Tel 27122

As far back as 1896 the late Messrs Dady & Framrose C Golwalla first conceived of a scheme for a Swimming Bath and opened in the fresh water tank in the compound of Chanda Ramji Press at Colaba

Appreciating the vital need of a cosmopolitan institution on the same lines, however, the late Golwalla Bros acquired a site on Back Bay Shore and on March 21st, 1900, Sir Lawrence Jenkins, the then Chief Justice, laid the foundation stone of what is known, as the Golwalla Bros Victoria Swimming Bath, where more than 70,000 people, of all castes and creeds have benefited from the tuition of Golwalla

In addition to other aquatic activities Messrs Golwalla Bros introduced Water Polo in Bombay in 1903, the first seen in India and the Parsis established a supremacy which has remained unshaken apart from visits of Calcutta Teams and a very narrow defeat by a European side in 1926.

Bombay had the honour of staging the first Quadrangular Water Polo Tournament in India and as a result of the consistently fine record of the Parsi Team of Messrs Golwalla Bros, have won the championship for six years in succession

Furthermore, in 1926, Golwalla Bros introduced the Central Heating System, the first of its kind in India in their Swimming Bath The public of Bombay felt it a great boon to swim in the cold season

The Bath has also a most up to-date Rowing and Boating Club for the benefit of all its members and a modern Restaurant

The Bath is open to all communities of both sexes and special personal instruction in Swimming, Diving, Life Saving, Water Polo, Rowing, etc., is given by a Staff of well qualified teachers.

The Bath can be reserved by individual parties and suitable convenient hours are arranged by the Proprietors

BYRAMJEE JEEJEEBHOOY MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Poona.

The School in Poona opened with 22 pupils on the 1st November 1878. The formal opening ceremony was performed by Sir Richard Temple, Governor of Bombay, on 7th December 1879. On that occasion, Sir Richard Temple announced that Mr. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy had generously promised a gift of a bungalow in Civil Lines to serve as a residential quarters for the students and a sum of Rs. 10,000 for the formation of an Endowment Fund for the School.

Since its opening, the School has continued to expand and the curriculum, which originally was of three years, has, since 1906, been extended to four years. As the school steadily progressed, the necessity for new buildings began to be felt, and in the year 1906 two new blocks of buildings, consisting of two lecture rooms, an examination hall, and a new dissecting room with other subsidiary rooms, were erected by Government. A large residential building to accommodate 80 pupils was also built by Government. This is situated in the compound of the bungalow originally presented by Mr. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy. In 1915, a house for the Medical Officer, who supervises the students' quarters, was erected.

The standard of admission to the L.C.S. Course was raised to the Inter-Science Examination of "B" Group of the Bombay University with effect from June 15th, 1927.

On 1st November 1925, the occasion of the Golden Jubilee of the School, the New Laboratory building and the Out-Patient Department were opened by the Minister of Education. An independent Anatomy Department is being fitted up.

The proposal to convert the School into a College is under consideration of Government.

These activities take the shape of regular Debates, Assemblies where each class provides variety entertainments to the others, Dramatics for developing histrionic talents, a School Magazine published annually and a weekly bulletin The Academy Times which provide scope for the cultivation of artistic, literary and journalistic talents.

A Perfect system has been developed under which every Prefect, elected in accordance with democratic principles looks to the maintenance of discipline in co-operation with fellow students and learns healthy leadership. Children's Court, trying offences against discipline and good conduct supplements instruction in practical self-government. Breaches of discipline are corrected with adequate supplementary work of a useful nature. There is no corporal punishment.

The Academy provides for the teaching of elementary civics and general knowledge in the higher standards. The scheme consists of imparting practical information about topics of interest in the present-day world. Occasional lectures by specialists are included.

The students' Library contains books on various subjects calculated to supplement class work. Regular use of the library is secured by making provision for supervised reading.

Excursions and long range trips are organised by the students with the co-operation of the staff to places of historical or geographical interest or to places of natural beauty.

Attempts are made towards the improvement of teaching methods in particular subjects and in the co-ordination of work in different classes. Daltonising some of the subjects of the curriculum is contemplated but before it is taken up as an experimental measure the school intends doing as much as possible by way of individual work within the present scheme.

SIR ELLY KADOORIE SCHOOL.

Mazgaon, Bombay

The Sir Elly Kadoorie School, formerly the Israelite School, was first opened on a small scale in 1875 for the education of poor Jewish children. The school was subsequently enlarged in 1881 through the efforts of the late Mr. Haseem Samuel Kahimkar, who worked for the school for over 20 years as Hon. President, Secretary, and Treasurer. In 1898 the present spacious grounds of the school with a building were purchased for Rs. 80,000 collected from Government, the Anglo-Jewish Association, London, and generous members of the public from Europe and India.

In the year 1908 the school passed from the hands of the late Mr. Haseem Samuel Kahimkar into those of a Managing Committee. In 1928 Sir Elly Kadoorie, K.C.M.G., Com. Leg. Hon. of Shanghai, donated a sum of over £10,000 for the extension and remodeling of the building which amount supplemented by local donations, enabled the committee to house the school in the present commodious building. In appreciation of Sir Elly Kadoorie's princely gift the school is called after him since 1st April, 1928.

The principal object of this school is to impart religious and secular instruction to European students. The school is now taken advantage of by Hindu students of the locality. The school imparts both Primary and Secondary education, preparing students for the Matriculation Examination of the University of Bombay.

The "Gate of Mercy" Synagogue, the oldest synagogue in Bombay, has been helping the school in various ways since 1912. In recent years it has paid Rs. 4,000 per year.

To enable the children of poor parents to prosecute their studies in the school the late Mr. Herman Landau, C.B.E., a philanthropic gentleman of London, donated in the year 1908 a sum of Rs. 10,000. The interest on this sum is utilized in giving scholarships. The school also makes arrangements for providing books and clothing and one free meal a day to the children of poor Jewish parents. The expenses on this account are partly met from the interest on Rs. 5,000 received from Sir Victor Sassoon through Lady Reading.

BIBLE SOCIETY OF INDIA AND CEYLON

(Bombay Auxiliary)

Amar Building, Sir Pherozshah Mehta Road, Fort

This Auxiliary was originally the Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and was [redacted] in 1818 under the auspices of the then Governor of Bombay, Sir [redacted]. Even [redacted] was a Vice President of the Society in London. His first [redacted] Secretary was the Rev Thomas Carr, D.D., who became the first Bishop of Bombay. The [redacted] [redacted] in English French, Dutch, Portuguese, etc., was stored in [redacted] Vestry of St Thomas' Cathedral for many years and the monthly meetings of the [redacted] [redacted] were held there regularly.

The one aim and object of the Auxiliary has been and is the translation, publication and circulation of the Holy Bible without note or comment, throughout the Western India. The translation of the Bible into Marathi and Gujarati, the two major languages of Western India, was completed under the Bombay Mission. The translation of the Marathi Bible was completed in 1838, while the Gujarati Bible was published in 1847. During more than 180 years of work in Bombay Presidency more than 8 million copies of Holy Scriptures have been circulated, chiefly by sale, at rates very much lower than cost price. Besides the translation, revision, publication and ordinary means of dissemination of the Bible, large grants of money are made to Missionary Societies in order to assist Scripture distribution throughout Western India. Missionary Societies and Churches of all Protestant denominations depend solely on the Bible Society for Scriptures in various languages, are essential to them in their various departments of service.

On November 1st, 1944 the Bible Society of India and Ceylon came into being as a result of long negotiations between the British and Foreign Bible Society in _____ and its Committee in India. The British and Foreign Bible Society transferred the administrative control over its work in India and Ceylon to the new Society, and under the Constitution of the latter as approved by the British and Foreign Bible Society the existing Auxiliaries in this country and Ceylon have become component parts of the Bible Society of India and Ceylon. The new Society is _____ of continued support from London and _____ by association with _____ Bible Society and the National Bible Society of Scotland.

Since the greater proportion of the Society's expenses must be borne by voluntary contributions, it is dependent upon the support of all Christian people for help to carry on its beneficent work.

The Ramakrishna Mission, in the year 1897, Swami Vivekananda, is a Neo-Hindu religious movement, which has as its primary object the promotion of inter-racial, inter-religious and international fellowship. Ramakrishna, the master of the great Swami, was the embodiment of the harmony of religions. THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

Blavatsky Lodge, Bombay.

The Theosophical Society was formed in New York by Mrs. H. P. Blavatsky and Wm. H. S. Olcott on 17th November 1875 and incorporated in Madras on 3rd April 1905 (having its Headquarters at Adyar, Madras). Col. H. S. Olcott was the first President, and on his death in 1907, Dr. Annie Besant was elected President by four septennial elections. She held the office till her death in September 1933, and was succeeded by Dr. George S. Arundale, M.A. LL.B., F.R.Hist.S., D.Litt., who was re-elected President for a second term of 7 years. During its 70 years existence the Society has spread its branches all over the world. It has 47 National Sections containing 234 Lodges. Its membership is about 11,300 of which over 5,000 belong to the Indian Section. Its Headquarters are at Benares.

The Theosophical Society is a non-sectarian body of seekers after Truth, striving to serve humanity in spiritual lines, and therefore endeavouring to check materialism and revive religious tendencies. Its three declared objects are—(1) To form a nucleus of the Universal Brotherhood of Humanity, without distinction of race, creed, sex, caste or colour. (2) To encourage the study of comparative religion, philosophy and science. (3) To investigate the unexplained laws of nature and the powers latent in man.

The Society is composed of students, belonging to any religion in the world, none, who are united by their approval of the above objects, by their religious antagonisms, to draw together men of goodwill, irrespective of their religious opinions, and by their desire to study religious truths and share the results of their study with others. Their bond of union is not the profession of a common belief, but a common aspiration. They hold that Truth should be sought by reflection, by purity of life, by devotion to high ideals, and regard Truth as a prize to be striven for, not as a dogma to be imposed by authority. They consider that belief should be the result of individual study, or of intuition and not its antecedent, and should rest on knowledge, not on assertion. They extend tolerance to all, even to the intolerant, not as a privilege but as a duty, and they seek to remove ignorance, not to punish it. They see every religion as an expression of the Divine wisdom, and prefer its study to its condemnation, and its practice to proselytism. Peace is their watchword, as Truth is their aim.

The Blavatsky Lodge, Bridge, Chowpatty, Bombay, which was founded on 23rd April 1879, was chartered on 20th February 1880, was registered on 6th July 1906. It is the first branch of the Society to be established in India and has its own spacious building, a good library and a book depot. The Lodge has 177 members. There are six other branches of the Society in Bombay and suburbs and four special branches for the people.

CHURCHES OF ENGLAND. ST. THOMAS' CATHEDRAL

Bombay

The first scheme for building a Church on the Island of Bombay originated in 1678, the English Services then being conducted in a Hall in the Castle. Money was collected, but though the Church was commenced, it never got higher than fifteen feet. In 1718 Richard Cobbe appealed to have this stigma removed, and on Christmas Day, 1718, the church was opened with great rejoicing. In 1814 Bombay had been made an Archdeaconry of Oolcutta and on 7th June 1818 the church was consecrated with all due solemnity by the Right Rev Thomas Fanehaw Middleton, D.D. In 1837 Bombay was created a Bishopric, and in 1838, on the arrival of Dr Carr, the first Bishop, it was notified to be the Cathedral Church of the See, under the dedication of St Thomas the Apostle. The present pinnacled tower was erected consisting of a lantern standing upon a square tower at its base, the whole rising 146 feet from ground level and containing a clock with three small quarter bells each suitably inscribed. There are two Silver Chalice of particular interest, one being the gift of Governor Gerald Aungler whilst the other's history is bound up in mystery and is inscribed "The gift of the Greenland merchants of the Cities of York, 1632." In 1867-68 the present beautiful chancel and organ chamber were constructed, the first-stone being laid by Sir Bartle Frere.

The Lady Chapel has a splendid reredos given as a thank offering, and the screen surrounding the Chapel is in memory of Captain Mathias who gave his life for his country during the great war.

The foundation stone was laid on December 4, 1847, by Sir G. Clark the then Governor, and the Church was consecrated by the Right Rev. John Harding, D.D., Second Bishop of Bombay, on January 7, 1858. Arthur Road, Jacob Circle, Bombay.

These Hospitals, which are equipped and maintained by the Bombay Municipal Corporation, were opened at Arthur Road on the outbreak of an epidemic of small-pox in 1892. Previous to this, in the year 1888, the Bombay Municipality started a hospital at Grant Road called, the Grant Road Infectious Diseases Hospital. This hospital was generally opened during the epidemics of small-pox and cholera and was closed during the rest of the year. The hospital worked for four, six, one and seven months during the years 1888, 1895, 1899 and 1901 respectively. It was permanently closed on the 26th July, 1902, and the patients, furniture, etc., were transferred to Arthur Road. This hospital was made ready for the admission of patients on 12th March, 1902, and had been called "The Arthur Road Hospital for Infectious Diseases." But when the small-pox section was entirely separated from the general section, the name was given as "City Fever Hospitals." In the beginning, patients suffering from cholera and small-pox were chiefly admitted and treated, but now patients suffering from all infectious diseases are treated here. During the first outbreak of plague, patients suffering from that disease were also treated at this Hospital, and, from 1890 to 1901, 6,322 plague patients were treated. Since 1901 the admission of plague patients into this Hospital was discontinued, and a separate hospital known as Martha's Hospital was started for such cases in 1902. But from 1930, the Martha's Hospital is exclusively maintained for advanced tuberculosis and renal side cases, and the admission of plague cases in the City Fever Hospitals has been resumed.

At present the hospitals are divided into two units, one for small-pox and the other for all other infectious diseases except tuberculosis. The accommodation in the former unit is for 246 patients and in the other unit is for 126 patients. The average number of patients treated has been consistently on the increase and the maximum number of patients treated on one day has reached over 700.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Children's Home, Umarkhadi, Bombay and Chembur (Post Trombay).

The Children's Aid Society was established in 1927 to help forward the operation of Bombay Children Act by taking over responsibility for the maintenance of the Umarkhadi Children's Remand Home, for the organisation of inquiry work respecting the cases of boys and girls dealt with by the Juvenile Court and for the co-ordination of work done by voluntary supervision workers appointed by the Court. The Children's Aid Society is a private charitable organisation registered under the Societies' Registration Act No. XXI of 1900 with a very substantial grant-in-aid from Government. Its work lies amongst destitute children hailing from all parts of India, juvenile offenders less than 16 years of age and children offended against by adult persons. The extent of its activities can be estimated from the fact that in the first ten years of its existence over 8,000 remand cases had passed through the Umarkhadi Home, and that in 1930 a Junior Reformatory School for boys less than 15 years of age was opened in the Umarkhadi compound.

Children under 16 years of age, who are arrested in Bombay City or Suburban District under the Children Act, are kept on remand in the Umarkhadi Children's Home pending disposal through the Children's Court.

The Children's Aid Society's Umarkhadi Home now employs a Chief Probation Officer, 6 Subsidiary Probation Officers, and three Voluntary Probation Officers to inquire into the children's cases and supervise them on probation for the Juvenile Court in Bombay City and Suburbs. The work of supervision is also assisted by Voluntary Supervisors.

The Society opened in September last, 1930, the Children's Cottage Homes at Chembur (near Mankhurd, post Trombay) to accommodate over 200 children. The Chembur Children's Home is intended to provide advanced training in farming and related occupations for a period of years under rural conditions, and will encourage the opening of "Farm Colonies" in sparsely populated and virgin lands in the Presidency.

The Society has opened since November 1940 a Home for mentally deficient children. It is accommodated in a spacious building at Chembur specially constructed for the purpose. There is provision in the Home for the maintenance and treatment of 80 children of all grades of mental deficiency.

The Society has also taken over the management of the David Sassoon Industrial School, Matunga, since November 1939.

The total number of children in all the four institutions is about 1,250.

INDIAN SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

(Formerly known as American Mission School for the Blind)

Dadar, Bombay.

The School for the Blind was established in 1900 by the late Miss Anna Millard. The School was opened during famine times, when both the young and adult blind were admitted. It has gradually developed into a strictly educational institution. It is now under the management of a Committee, composed of Social workers, Philanthropists and Educationists of the City of Bombay. At present, only boys and girls up to the age of 14, irrespective of any caste, creed, colour or religion are admitted. The aim of the School is to make the blind children self-supporting, self-respecting and contributive members of society and to help them to take their rightful position along with their seeing compatriots. The ordinary school subjects are taught in English and Marathi from Kindergarten through High School. School-life activities, such as Scouting, Cubbing, Girl-guiding, Literacy, Music, Excursion and other sports are an essential part of the education of the children. The school is a day-school and is open to all.

It is primarily a residential school but day-scholars are also admitted.

A special department, probably the only one of the kind in India, namely a Department for the Deaf-Blind-Mute, was started in 1938. The triply-handicapped child is taught to speak through tactile and oral methods, to hear through bone-conduction and to write with Braille.

The Music Department is affiliated to the Indian School of Music.

Cane-work is the principal industry and the product is on sale for the benefit of the department. Other industries taught are steel-fibre work and bead-chain making.

Apart from Municipal and Government Educational and Technical grants-in-aid the School is dependent on the public for support. The building, for which the land and a generous building grant were given by the Government, is located on a healthy and spacious plot on Dadar Road, a few minutes walk from Parel Train Terminus. Visitors are very welcome to see the children at work from 11 A.M. to 4.30 P.M. on weekdays and from 8 to 11 A.M. on Saturdays. But the pupils are always busy, and even out of school hours visitors will find interesting activities going on.

THE DAVID SASSOON INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Muhim—Bombay 16

The nucleus of a Juvenile Reformatory was first formed in Bombay in 1843 through the exertions of Dr. Buist and in that year a Ragged School was established at Seewi as an asylum for orphan and vagrants. The objects of the School were (1) the reformation of juvenile offenders arrested by the Police and (2) the encouragement of apprenticeship amongst the working classes.

For several years the maintenance of the School was provided for by public subscription and its management was in the hands of private individuals. In 1857 when the institution stood in urgent need of funds to meet its immediate wants and to ensure its stability for the future, the sons of the late Mr. David Sassoon made an offer of Rs. 30,000 on certain conditions, and conveyed to Government a house and the premises at Chunnam Khan Road (now known as Lamington Road), which were vacated in October, 1911, for the premises now occupied at Matunga. The Government of Bombay, with the sanction of the Government of India, accepted the offer and the School of Industry was organised under the name of "The David Sassoon Industrial and Reformatory Institution", and its management from then was vested in a Committee.

Control of the Institution—In 1900 the control of the David Sassoon Industrial and Reformatory was transferred from the Judicial Department to the Educational Department in accordance with the decision of the Government of India. The Control of the Institution was transferred to the Home Department in 1926.

In 1927 the Institution was certified under Section 34(2) of the Bombay Children Act 1924, as fit for the reception of children and youthful offenders dealt with under the Act.

In April, 1924, the administrative control of the Institution, as of other Reformatory Schools in the Presidency, was transferred from the Director of Public Instruction to the Backward Class Officer. In the following year the name was changed to "The David Sassoon Industrial School". The children admitted to the School are committed by the Juvenile Court under the Bombay Children's Act of 1924 and they are trained and reformed during the period of their stay at the School.

Its management was taken over in 1939 by the Children's Aid Society, Bombay, which includes the representatives of the Sassoon Family and Government nominees, and which is controlled by the Backward Class Officer since 1934. They are taught the three "R's" and are trained to habits of useful industry. Blacksmithy, fitting and turning, carpentry and furniture-making, cane-work, polishing and painting, sign-board painting, tailoring, spinning and weaving and gardening are the trades taught. Drawing, co-related to these different arts and crafts, is a special feature. As apprentices under training, boys are sent to neighbouring mills, workshops and factories and are given employment in the Army and the Navy. The School is also receiving War work orders.

There are three primary schools attached, teaching Gujarati, Marathi and Urdu, upto standard IV. English, Art, Drawing, Religious and Moral Instruction, Music and First Aid to the Injured, form the region part of curricula of school-studies.

Scouting, boxing, swimming, cricket, football, physical drill and gymnastics are the chief activities indulged in by boys. Sports, boxing-tournaments, cricket and football matches with other schools and clubs, and scout camps provide ample scope to boys for developing a healthy sporting spirit. Magic lantern lectures, evening walks, educational visits, and excursions, scout camps, bathing parties, morning discourses and dramatic performances held inside the compound are extra curricular activities of the Institution. The institution has an extensive playground, vegetable gardens, the "Sir Leslie Wilson Swimming Bath", Boy Scout "Bunbury Troop 6th Bombay" and "Munshi-Troop" and a boxing club affiliated to the Boxing Federation of Western India. A School Band with pipes and drums and bagles and drums, was started in 1937 at the instance of Mr. B. L. Ferard with the object of recreation in the School and training to the boys.

In many cases the boys discharged from the Institution are procured employment by the authorities, and are sent to the Sheppard After-Care Auxiliary Home and other similar institutions.

They devote their spare time to alleviate the suffering of the sick and the injured.

Members are required to fulfil the condition of "Efficiency" every year as per Regulations, hence the membership is a passport and qualification to undertake first aid duty. They attend open air Public Gatherings, Public Ceremonies or Processions, Elections, Reviews, Shows, Football, Hockey Matches, Exhibitions, Races, Sports, Picnics, Railway Accidents, Fire, Disturbances, strikes, collapses etc. and on occasions where large numbers of people are present and where there is a probability of accidents occurring. During the Bombay Dock Explosions on 14-4-1945 and two months after when demolition work was going on, members rendered "excellent service," as characterised by Military and Naval Authorities.

The Division has extended its activities by holding Health, Maternity and Infant Welfare Exhibitions jointly with the Para Nursing Division with free admission to all, to educate the public mind on health rules. The first Exhibition was held in April 1938 and the last in May 1938. It was visited on each occasion by more than 50,000 citizens of Bombay and Suburbs as it was kept open for nine days (a fortnight). They also held an A.R.P. Exhibition for nine days in March 1942 to make the public air minded and it was equally successful. The Division also organised classes for Air Raid Precautions. More than 12,000 persons had been trained in the subject. This included A.R.P. instructors, A.R.P. TATA MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

Hospital Avenue, Parel, Bombay

This Hospital, founded by the Trustees of the Sir Dorabji Tata Trust for the purpose of investigation and treatment of cancer and allied conditions, was opened by His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, on 25th February, 1943. It is devoted to the treatment of one type of disease and almost all the medical and scientific members of its staff are full time workers. The building has been planned on lines similar to the New Memorial Hospital at New York and its specialised function has been responsible for its unique design and conception in this country.

The Institute is equipped with the most modern scientific appliances for diagnosis and treatment.

X-ray and Radium Department—Besides very efficient diagnostic units for specialised work, the X ray Department is fitted with high and low voltage apparatus for superficial and deep radiation therapy. Two grammes of radium (valuing nearly 2 lakhs of rupees) are put into solution and the emanated gas—radon—is extracted, purified and collected in gold and glass tubing. The quantity of gas is accurately measured and the tubes after calibration and sealing are supplied in specially designed applicators for the treatment of patients in different regions of the body.

Surgical Department—There are three up-to-date operating theatres built with walls of glass bricks on one side to exclude dust and other extraneous material and to let in sufficient light during day time. The theatres are all air conditioned and the incoming air is filtered, sterilised, cooled and dehumidified before being distributed by means of ducts. The supply of oxygen, nitrous oxide and compressed air is ensured through pipes from a central supply room.

There are well-equipped pathological, chemical and physics laboratories, where routine work and investigations are carried out on a daily basis. The Hospital has facilities for storing and preserving blood or plasma and transfusions are carried out in a very short notice.

The Hospital has a capacity of 100 beds. It is essentially a hospital for private patients, but is open to the public in proportion to its capacity. The Department is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on all days except Sundays.

I. P. RAILWAYMEN'S UNION.

(Registered and Recognised.)

1st Floor, Neptune Building, 160, Hornby Road, Bombay

This Union originated from the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union, now defunct, and which was an amalgamation of the G. I. P. Railwaymen's Union and the G. I. P. Railway Staff Union. In 1933, owing to a split in this amalgamation, a section of the Workers' Union set up separately the G. I. P. Railway Labour Union, which was followed in 1934 by the organisation of another called the New G. I. P. Railway Staff Union. The Labour Union which was a constituent of the Red Trade Union Congress, merged into the G. I. P. Workers' Union when the Red Trade Union Congress merged into the All India Trade Union Congress in 1935. In April 1936 the two rival central organisations, namely, the All India Trade Union Congress and the Indian Trades Union Federation, decided to unite and work together by arriving at a mutual understanding. This unity at the centre was followed on the G. I. P. and the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union and the New G. I. P. Railway Staff Union came to some understanding whereby the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union ceased functioning. Since 1st August, 1936, all the sections were again combined under the flag of the New G. I. P. Railway Staff Union, which simultaneously changed its name into G. I. P. Railwaymen's Union. The Union had on 31st March 1945, a membership of 16,305 and it has opened 38 centres on the G. I. The Indian Central Cotton Committee was constituted by the Government of India in 1921, as a result of the recommendation of the Indian Cotton Committee of 1917-18. Originally, it was purely an advisory body, but, with its incorporation under the Indian Cotton Cess Act in 1923, it became an administrative body, having at its disposal funds "for the improvement and development of the growing, marketing and manufacture of cotton in India." The funds of the Committee are derived from the cotton cess of two annas per bale of Indian cotton (four annas for the first three years) exported or brought under process in a mill in British India. The Committee is at present spending about Rs. 10,00,000 per annum on cotton improvement, mainly on agricultural and technological research, seed distribution and marketing schemes.

Including, as it does, representatives of growers, agricultural officers, traders, spinners and manufacturers, the Committee has been an invaluable forum for the discussion of many problems of general concern. The ever increasing understanding which has arisen from the association of leading commercial representatives with growers and research workers has led to developments which, at one time, seemed impossible. Whilst the constitution of the Committee ensures a broad outlook on the many problems affecting the cotton industry, its primary concern is the interest and welfare of the cotton grower.

The activities of the Committee now extend to all branches of cotton improvement in India. Funds are provided for research into cotton problems of all-India importance and for the development, extension and marketing of improved varieties of cotton. The aim always is to supplement and not supplant the work of the Agricultural Departments in the cotton growing provinces and Indian States. Though, as a matter of convenience, the Committee has laid down certain lines of demarcation regarding the investigations which it considers appropriate for its grants, the general policy is to give assistance in the direction where it is most needed in the carrying out of a co-ordinated policy of cotton improvement. Realising at the outset that the production of a better variety of cotton will not alone solve the entire cotton problem and that improvement in the science and practice of agriculture must go hand in hand with improvement in the method of disposal of the produce, considerable attention has been devoted by the Committee to the improvement of primary cotton marketing and to the prevention of adulteration and other abuses.

LOCAL SELF GOVERNMENT INSTITUTE.

(Bombay Province)

11, Hiphinstone Circle, Fort, Bombay

The Conference of Local Bodies which was held in July 1926 under the auspices of the Government of Bombay brought into existence this Institute—an Association of Local Bodies in the Bombay Presidency—with the following aims and objects:—

Organisation of the annual conferences of local self governing bodies. Service as an information and Advice Bureau to Local Bodies. Training the public by propaganda in the principles and practice of local self-government. Representation of views of local bodies and seeking redress of their grievances. To undertake any other measures necessary for the furtherance of interest of Local Self-Government and promotion of efficient administration.

In order to fulfil these objects the Institute is running Training Classes for Local Self-Government Service. The L.S.G.D. Diploma, which is recognised by the Government of Bombay, is awarded to successful students. The Diploma is recognised by about 80 important Indian States. The Government of Bombay while framing rules have prescribed the L.S.G.D. Diploma as a special qualification in the recruitment of staff to the Local Boards of the Bombay Province. Rules have also been framed by several local bodies giving special facilities for encouraging their staff to take the training imparted by the Institute.

The Institute is conducting four Journals: the Quarterly Journal of Local Self-Government in English, and three vernacular quarterlies entitled "Sthani Svarejya" in Marathi, Gujarati and Kanarese. Besides, about 20 books have been so far published by the Institute, mainly for the use of the L.S.G.D. students. Its latest important publication is the Directory of Local Self-Government in India with special reference to the Bombay Province—a publication covering nearly 1,100 pages. It has been favourably received by the press.

The Institute has been maintaining a big Library containing a number of important publications on Local Self Government subjects. The Library has been recognised by the University of Bombay for students aspiring for Ph.D. Degree. Students for Ph.D. Degree for Municipal Engineering are trained by Mr. Naik, Honorary Secretary who has been a recognised teacher on the subject. For other subjects they are given personal directions by Mr. Barhivale, the Director of the Institute. Mr. Barhivale, the Director of the Institute has been recognised by the University of Bombay as a University Teacher for M.A. in Politics and Administration. Both Mr. Naik and Mr. Barhivale are fellows of the University of Bombay.

Nearly all Municipalities and Local Boards of the Province are on the list of Institute's membership.

The Institute is tendering free of charge legal and technical advice to local bodies and helps them in the purchase of their numerous requirements and in insuring their properties.
